

The European Association for the taps and valves industry

Press Release

CEIR becomes Associate Member of Orgalime

“This is very good news for CEIR”, says Bulent Haciraifoglu, CEIR President. “CEIR is a truly European association that has been representing the European taps and valves industry for years. CEIR members have devoted a great deal of time and energy working for their association and membership of Orgalime is recognition of their hard work. CEIR membership will herald the start of intensive cooperation with Orgalime members. CEIR members will benefit as CEIR can use the Orgalime network to promote the interests of the taps and valves industry.”

Brussels, 28 June 2012

During the General Assembly of Orgalime (the European Engineering Industries Association) on 27 June 2012 in Brussels, CEIR (the European Association for the taps and valves industry) was accepted as an associate member of Orgalime. A CEIR presentation was made by Bulent Haciraifoglu. This covered CEIR achievements in terms of communication (new newsletter, new website, etc.), delivering results (European Water Label for taps and showerheads, Valve Terminology CD, Business Trends Survey, Chairmanship of Standardisation groups etc.) and advocacy on behalf of the industry (4MS, ecolabel, ecodesign etc.)

Associate membership of Orgalime will enable CEIR to access many Orgalime working groups and documents. The Orgalime network will be extended and Orgalime will benefit from the energy and input of CEIR members
